URGENT CALL TO ALL OUR MEMBERS

Judy Nutt has been doing the catering most admirably for all our functions 3 times a year for quite some years now. Eve Wolfe nominated herself to be Judy's offside with the catering but is moving south. Thanks for your valuable time Eve and good luck with your move. An urgent call is being sent out to all members of U3A, asking if someone would like to offer to help Judy with the catering for the next two functions this year. Your help would be most appreciated as it is a job made easier by two. Anyone who feels they may be able to help please call Graham Collins on 4789 0590 as soon as possible.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

How many numbers do you think you have associated with your name, or where you live, or things that you use? A short list could include your driver's licence, passport, bank account, tax file, medicare, car and house insurance, Centrelink, Commonwealth health card, pension, house address, telephone, mobile, birth certificate, and library card. One of these days, it will include a number on a death certificate. Some or all of these numbers that refer to you are, or will be, stored somewhere.

What about if you use a computer? Does that have a number that is associated with you? Well, yes, every computer that connects to the internet has what's called an Internet Protocol (IP) address that ensures that what you download will actually finish up on your computer. The address is four sets of numbers something like 118.210.110.179. You can easily find the IP address of your computer – just type <http://www.whatsmyipaddress.com> into your browser.

This combination of 4 sets of numbers, called IPv4, allows for 4.3 billion different addresses and when computers first started connecting to the internet that sounded like an awful lot. But these days, the internet is no longer about home and business PCs. Just about anything can connect to the internet, including mobile phones, iPods, iPads, and e-books such as Kindle. It's hard to imagine, but the last lot of IPv4 addresses, 16,777,216 or 0.4%, will be allocated later this year.

So this calls for something new in the way of internet addresses. IPv4 will be replaced eventually by IPv6 which will have 8 groups of 4 numbers separated by colons. IPv6 will allow 3.4×10^{38} connections, enough to last us for quite some time. Of course, there is always a catch, and the catch is that the broadband modems we now use for IPv4 won't be able to read the IPv6 signal. But not to worry, we will need to get a new modem when the NBN reaches us (it's already in some parts of Townsville). Look out for World IPv6 day on the 8th of June when the big internet users like Google, Mozilla, Facebook, and others will try out IPv6 - you can read more about this here: <http://isoc.org/wp/worldipv6day/>

MAGNETIC ISLAND GETTING RIGHT ALONG

Don Kinsey

The Island has now recovered well from Yasi and the vegetation generally is looking good though some of the eucalypts still have a way to go to recover their foliage. Our recent short course of Spanish for Beginners is now completed. It has been very successful and also an interesting experiment as it was held in the early evening and had a number of much younger new members still in the daytime workforce.

Congratulations to Malcolm and Marie. Our 12-week science class dealing with Plate tectonics and Volcanics is now finished and is replaced by a new look at Climate Change and Alternative Energy Issues. The changed science class format of a 1-hour lecture followed, after the tea-break, by an extensive discussion period seems to be popular and working well.

All other ongoing courses continue their successful runs and will always welcome new participants. If you want to know what's happening on the Island (not just U3A) try going to www.whatsonmagneticisland.com.au.

AITKENVALE THURSDAY ART GROUP.

The group continues to flourish with now eight of us painting, one card-making and one doing detailed pen and ink drawings. The 3 hours each Thursday morning seem to fly by, and we can certainly all claim that our work is improving in leaps and bounds. We mightn't have a professional tutor but our self-help/critiquing approach is obviously working! Each one of us is becoming more adventurous in what we will tackle – some ideas work, some don't! Some of the Salvation Army staff pop in most weeks, to check our work out and, in some cases, walk out with a painting or card under their arm.

About two years ago we held an exhibition at the Art Society Gallery in Kings Road which proved quite successful, and as we have accumulated a substantial number of works in our various spare rooms since then, we decided to hold another. This time we thought we would try a single day "Sale of Art" approach to be held under Jan Fel's lovely home in Railway Estate. The display looked great, as did the al fresco "café" in the garden. Due to a heap of different advertising strategies (posters, press ads, radio interviews, personal invitations etc) we had an excellent turnout with terrific results. We hung a little over 100 paintings and in the six hours sold 37!! No mean feat in this financial climate we feel! Most visitors were impressed with what we had to offer and since then we have been given a commission to do some paintings for a wedding present. Apart from selling our work we all had a very pleasant social day and everyone is keen to do it again pre-Christmas. So, if you are looking for something different for that special person, keep an eye out for the advertising in November!

DRAWING AND PAINTING FOR BEGINNERS – (NEW COURSE)

Where? At The NQ Potters association premises in Flowers St, Railway Estate.
When? Commencing Wednesday May 25th 2011 from 1pm to 3pm weekly for eight weeks.

Who? The teacher is Sylvia Hayes.
What to Bring? A sketchpad, pencil and eraser to start with.

Cost? Each person contributes $5 to the cost of the venue each week and is required to provide their own materials.

The course will introduce members to pencil drawing, working with pastels and painting with acrylics.

Numbers are limited.

To enroll, phone Sylvia on 0428030040
The course will be repeating later in the year.

CAR BOOT SALE

The proposal to hold a car boot sale has generated some interest. The problem has been to find a site. I am offering an area at 169 Geaney Lane Deeragun where we have access to a toilet and to water. Proceed along Geaney Lane over the bridge, and immediately look to the right for a high gray walled corner (cnr of Geaney and Leonie St) . That is where we will set out our saleable items. If you want to show swap or sell, Art or Craft or unwanted items or clothing come along and join us and perhaps make a few dollars too. Sunday morning August 28th 10am to noon. Please phone Nanette on 47214484 if you intend to bring your boot and booty along

COACH TRIP TO THE BURDEKIN DAM

The trip out to the Burdekin Dam was a great success. It was an easy, comfortable trip with plenty of comfort stops to stretch our legs and spend a penny. The coach was full and our driver 'Ron' was the one who drove us on the Richmond trip. The country side was very green due to the extended wet and the water was rushing over the spillway of the Dam rather spectacularly.

We stopped at Ravenswood on the way there, visiting the cemetery to peruse the very old graves and headstones. We also were taken out to the White Blow which is a small hillock of white quartz which was pushed up out of the ground many thousand years ago. Most of us wandered around it, marvelling at the sight, while a few intrepid members in the group climbed to the top. After that we made a stop at the lookout where, after a short walk uphill, we could look out over one of the mines, then back into Ravenswood to check out the historic museum (most interesting) and to the Ravenswood Hotel for lunch, and a cold drink.

Lunch over, we all boarded the bus again for the run out to the Burdekin Dam. If you have never seen the dam, then you are missing an amazing sight.

On the return journey to Townsville we were entertained with poetry and some good old fashioned jokes. Nanette organised a raffle, which was winner take all. Great fun. Really look forward to the next trip to somewhere. Well done again Nanette.

GENERAL NEWS

PROPOSED TRIP TO MAGNETIC ISLAND

On Sunday 11th of September I propose to make a day trip to Magnetic Island. I have chosen that day because the Horseshoe Bay markets will be on then. If anyone would care to join me then you are quite welcome. Of course you would be free to leave the group and visit other attractions and rejoin us later as you wish, or do your own thing entirely. I have checked out the bus timetables and found that we could have a very inexpensive day out using the buses.

Here is what I will be doing and when:

8.45 depart the ferry terminal Theiss Drive arriving at Nelly Bay terminal at 9.10.

9.15 depart Nelly Bay terminal by bus for Picnic bay, arriving at 9.30

Visit the Magnetic Island Historical and Craft Centre leaving on the 10:45 bus to Horseshoe Bay arriving at 11.20.

The markets are on till 2pm. Craft, Artworks, Food and Fun are on offer at the markets.

1.05 depart by bus to Arcadia arriving at 1.15.

Lunch at Arcadia. I am told that the pizzas at Cafe del Isola are excellent.

2.35 depart Arcadia by bus for Nelly Bay arriving there at 2.40. A little browsing at the delightful fashion shop there then a visit to Island Jewellery just up the road.

Afternoon Tea at Peppers next to the ferry terminal and perhaps meet up with some of the Island's U3A members.

4.25 depart from Nelly Bay arriving back at Theiss Drive terminal just before 5pm.

Some helpful details:

Parking at the ferry terminal is expensive $8 so car pool where you can.

Return day ticket on the ferry is $14.50 for pensioners, you will need to show your card otherwise its $29.

There need be no other cost to you except what you choose to spend on food and buses. Bring your own lunch if you wish.

You can go by Barge at a pensioner return price of $16. Double that if you are not a pensioner. You can take your car by barge (Fantasea) which will cost you $169 and includes all the passengers that the vehicle can legally carry. You can hire a car on the Island from the advertised price of $30 a day (Bryan Abbott Autos 0437 820 914) or Tropical Topless Car Rentals at $40 a day situated opposite Nelly bay harbour. Both will pick you up from and deliver you back to the terminal. Most other car hire firms quote about $60 a day so please suss out whether fuel and insurance are included in the quoted price. If you get four people to share it could be quite an economical way of covering the Island You will need your licence and ID. Please phone me on 47214484 by August 31st if you want to join the group. Feel free to go wallaby feeding or koala hugging and take off on your own. There is an excellent booklet " Magnetic Island Guide 2010 - 2011" available free at travel agents.

Many thanks to Pam Franzman for sending me great info.

Nanette.

FRIDAY TALKS

"How to Make A Crocodile Smile."

Bernie Davis, Manager Intensive Livestock Industries, was part of a Research and Development team at the Queensland Department of Primary Industries. Their aim was to establish ideal catching techniques, housing conditions, pelleted feeding and farmer education. Ably assisted by tech support officer Honor Stephenson, he was intensely involved in setting up commercial crocodile farming.

He will present some aspects of this project in his talk on:-

Friday July 29th at 2 to 3 pm at the Aitkenvale Library Meeting Room.

Also:-

" God,Don't let That Happen To Me"

This is the title of a paper written by Madge Sceriha which she will present to us in August. Madge hopes it will go some way to starting the conversation about our end of life choices.

This is a subject she knows well as it was the basis of her degree at JCU which she passed with honours so she is well worth listening to.
